Jeff Rasansky knows what it means to face the cameras in high-profile injury cases that earn attention from the press and the legal community alike.

Rasansky's dedication to his clients and his ability to handle complex legal issues in many types of injury cases have helped him earn selection as a D Magazine Best Lawyer three times. His work in significant injury claims has been reported by television and print media in Texas and across the nation.

At The Rasansky Law Firm, clients know their questions will be answered quickly and accurately. Rasansky understands that a lawsuit can be an added worry when a person or their loved one has been injured, so he and his staff make sure that their clients are informed about their cases every step of the way. That's why so many of Rasansky's clients come back when they have other legal needs, and why they recommend him to family and friends.

While his work often puts Rasansky on the national stage, he remains a true Texan. He is a lifelong Dallas resident who earned his law degree at Southern Methodist University. Involvement with his synagogue and local charitable organizations are part of his unwavering commitment to the community.
