FAMILY LAW

Kathryn Murphy, Ike Vanden Eykel, Kevin Fuller

An impressively large home. A family business. Vacation property and retirement accounts. Such financial assets provide a unique view into a marriage. The three Best Lawyer honorees from Koons, Fuller, Vanden Eykel & Robertson, the southwest's largest family law firm, realize the importance of such assets for the future well-being of you and your children.

They are all board-certified family lawyers, Texas Super Lawyers, and among the Top 100 Attorneys in Texas. In addition, Kathryn Murphy is one of the Top 50 Women Attorneys in Texas. Ike Vanden Eykel has been selected one of America's Top 10 Divorce Lawyers. Kevin Fuller is one of the foremost practitioners of collaborative law in the state.

They are partners at Koons Fuller, a legendary firm with 16 attorneys in two offices. Whenever a wealthy or famous North Texas resident divorces, often one of them is on the case, combining outstanding legal ability with reason and compassion.

They also represent people who aren't high profile, as do their fellow Koons Fuller attorneys, who offer a wide range of experience levels and hourly rates. The firm includes attorneys who are highly experienced in divorce litigation and settlement, complex property settlements, child custody, pre- and post-marital agreements, asset tracing, mediation, collaborative law, and paternity issues.

The firm's Best Lawyer honorees and their colleagues work to protect your most valuable assets (whatever they may be) while maintaining your privacy and keeping your dignity intact.
